PHILLIPS ACADEMY.

This Institution was founded by Mr. Paul Dodge Phillips, and went into operation in the fall of 1841. It is beautifully located in the village of Danville, Vt., and commands a fine view of the adjacent country and the White Mountains.

The building was erected at the expense of nearly four thousand dollars, collected from the liberal contributions of the inhabitants of the town. It is of beautiful architecture, tastefully finished, and conveniently arranged. It contains two large school rooms; one for the male, and the other for the female department, with a Lecture Room, Laboratory, and several smaller rooms for study and recitations.

It will ever be the aim of the present teachers, in this Institution, to further the noble object of its benevolent donors, and to make it an efficient coöperator in the great work of reform in our present system of education.

TEXT BOOKS.

CLASSICAL DEPARTMENT.

LATIN.—Andrews' and Stoddard's Grammar; Andrews Latin Reader and Exercises; Sallust (Anthon's); Cicero (Anthon's or Folsom's); Cooper's Virgil; Horace; Leverett's Latin Dictionary.

☞ Declamations from the gentlemen, and Composition from all the students, are required once in two weeks.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The Academical year is divided into four terms, of eleven weeks each, commencing as follows:

Fall Term, on the second Thursday of September;

Winter Term, second Thursday of December;

Spring Term, second Thursday of February;

Summer Term, second Thursday of May.

The Vacations are—One week at the end of the Fall Term; one week at the end of the Spring Term, and six weeks at the end of the Summer Term.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are Examinations at the close of each term, before the Trustees, or a committee chosen by them. Parents, guardians, and all interested, are respectfully invited to attend.

APPARATUS.

With the ample apparatus of this Institution, lectures will be given from time to time, as the wants of the School may require—illustrating the principles of Philosophy, Chemistry and Astronomy.
